

Courses for Provisional Students

Effective Fall 2013

1213-005

Background

Provisional students are students who are admitted conditionally because they do not have a standard high school diploma, college ready certificate of completion or a GED. They are restricted in the credit courses they may take until they document completion of a GED or standard high school diploma.

The following list was edited and approved by the Instructional Affairs Committee in 2008 and sent to the College Learning Council. The College Learning Council reviewed and approved this list at the December 15th meeting.
