CAMPUS PARTICIPATION AND ENGAGEMENT

“Constructing Governance” by David Rogers. This article examines how “Effective shared governance -- substantive conversations between diverse constituents to determine courses of action -- can lead to positive changes, stakeholder empowerment, and a strengthening of institutional vision.” Audience: Faculty in all disciplines, Librarians, Counselors

“Cultivating your Leadership Skills: Online Resources to Develop and Strengthen your Leadership Role” by R Kear. This article, published in the College & Research Libraries News, provides links to resources for the following aspects of leadership: modeling, inspiring a shared vision, enabling others to act, challenging the process, and encouraging the heart. Audience: Faculty in all disciplines, Librarians

“Two Years with a Tee Ball Bat: The Librarian as Faculty Senate Chair” by L.S. Crieder. Although this article, published in the College & Research Libraries News, is written by a college librarian, the practical tips and recommendations it provides are useful for anyone in a post-secondary leadership role. Audience: Faculty in all disciplines, Librarians