The workforce training programs offered through the WFTC project will create access for residents across Central Florida to participate in specialized workforce programs in Advanced Manufacturing including Mechatronics/Robotics, Transportation Logistics, Global Supply Chain Management and Engineering Technology. Training programs are housed in state of the art facilities (Advanced Manufacturing Training Center, CAT building, and CIT building in Osceola County), and each program provides a pathway for the student to earn national or international certifications in their field of study. Programs offered range from short-term, accelerated skills training to an Associate of Science engineering technician education degree program developed in partnership with industry and leading curriculum and training experts.	$2,500,000	Yes

USF is currently an Intelligence Community Center for Academic Excellence (ICCAE). This proposal seeks to recruit and prepare students for successful careers in Cyber Intelligence at the associate level, and provide a pathway to higher degrees. Activities include: partnering with schools and organizations to identify potential students (with a focus on women, veterans, and other underserved populations), provide career exploration workshops, assist students with the high cost of industry certifications, host speaker series/colloquium on campus, collaborate with industry leaders and educators to inform curriculum development and expand student and graduate workforce experiences. Additionally, Valencia will pursue a 2+2 articulation agreement with the USF where students who earn the in Network Engineering Technology A.S. degree would have a pathway to earning a B.S. degree in Information Security from USF.	$274,667	No

Name of Project: A Research Study Evaluating the Impact of PJI Academy on K-12 Teachers Accountable Administrators: Stacey Johnson Project Directors: Rachel Allen Campus Department: East Campus Funding Category: Corporate Funding Source: Wells Fargo Date Application Submitted: 8/30/18	In July 2018, the Peace and Justice Institute (PJI) hosted the inaugural PJI Academy for K-12 and postsecondary teachers. The aim of the Academy’s unique, powerful five-day workshop experience was to instill the values of PJI in educators: to nurture inclusive, caring and respectful environments. Led by Director Rachel Allen, PJI seeks funding support from Wells Fargo to develop and initiate a research analysis of the impact of the PJI Academy on K-12 teachers’ instructional and relationship-building practices and changes to classroom and school culture. The research investigation isolates and focuses on one of the 13 PJI Principles reviewed during the Academy: Principle #1 – Create a hospitable and accountable community. Evaluation strategies will include survey, interviews, a summative focus group, classroom observations, and teaching artifacts collection and analysis. The research analysis will span the time period September 2018 – May 2019, or one K-12 academic year. PJI will use grant funding to select a research professional with qualifications and experience attesting to their ability to obtain meaningful feedback to support ongoing improvements to the curricula and activities of the PJI Academy (following procurement policies).	$10,000	No
