The action of Radium Girls takes place in a variety of places in and around Orange, New Jersey, between 1918 and 1928

There will be a 15 minute Intermission between Act One and Act Two

Director's Program Note:

Radium Girls is rooted in the past, yet its message warns that history repeats unless we choose to change it. Directing Radium Girls at Valencia College became a more personal experience than I anticipated due to my father's recent passing from unsafe work conditions. As our family seeks accountability, I'm reminded that this tragic cycle the Radium Girls faced is not confined to the past. In these young women, I hope audiences see themselves, or someone they love, reflected in their struggle and resilience. Like a Greek tragedy, Grace and Roeder emerge not as hero or villain, but as two human faces of an impossibly complex truth. With this production, I invite you to witness, to question, and ultimately, to remember. – Kaitlin Elizabeth Derbyshire

(Please be advised: Actors and Technicians will be entering and exiting from all doors and walkways during the performance. If you need to exit during the show for any reason, please be mindful.)
