

CLEP Exam

Due to the Covid-19 pandemic, Valencia College campuses are closed for in-person testing until further notice. CollegeBoard (the company that owns CLEP) does not currently provide a virtual option, therefore we are unable to administer CLEP at this time.

We encourage you to take the exam with another testing site and have those scores sent electronically via CollegeBoard to Valencia College. Steps on how to do this can be seen here: Requesting and Submitting Scores

For your convenience, below is a compiled list of institutions that have indicated offering in-person CLEP testing at this time. Kindly note that any site which officially offers CLEP would be considered acceptable as a testing alternative and that you are not limited to only the options mentioned below:

We urge you to check with your desired institution/site to verify their testing availability as this is subject to change due to the developing pandemic situation.

Alternatively, if you are in need of satisfying the Foreign Language requirement for graduation, you may consider taking another exam known as FLATS, which is offered by UCF (as well as other institutions) and accepted by Valencia. Although this exam might satisfy Foreign Language, please note that unlike CLEP, it is not credit bearing and we urge you to check with Advising to verify if it is the right option for you.
